

Congressman Rothman Questions Homeland Security Secretary Janet Napolitano

(Washington, DC) &ndash; Today, Congressman Steve Rothman (D-NJ), a member of the House Appropriations Committee's Subcommittee on Homeland Security, questioned Secretary of Homeland Security Janet Napolitano about security issues affecting Northern New Jersey, such as chemical plants, port and container safety and rail security. He also asked the Secretary about improving coordination and communications between the various branches within the Department of Homeland Security. Subcommittee members also reviewed the latest Homeland Security Department efforts regarding the US Southern border with Mexico, as well as the Northern border with Canada.
