Solomon Schechter Day School Students Travel to Washington

(Washington, DC)&mdash;On Wednesday, May 16, 2007, Congressman Steve Rothman (D-Fair Lawn) addressed over 50 students from the Solomon Schechter Day School in New Milford, New Jersey. Meeting on the steps of U.S. Capitol in Washington, DC, the seventh and eighth graders asked Rep. Rothman about a host of issues, showing a keen interest in foreign policy. Specifically, they asked Rep. Rothman about future U.S. involvement in Iraq, Israeli security, and the threat of Iran's nuclear aspirations. The students were in town as part of an annual trip to Washington, DC organized by their school.
