Lodi, NJ – On September 27, 2011, Congressman Steve Rothman (D-NJ) spoke at the Beefsteak Flood Recovery Benefit for the Boys & Girls Club of Lodi and Hackensack, which was held at the Elan Restaurant in Lodi, NJ. The Boys & Girls Club sustained damage of more than $1 million during Hurricane Irene. Congressman Rothman played a key role in bringing Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) assistance to New Jersey and has always been a strong supporter of the Lodi and Hackensack Boys & Girls Club.

“Having seen the devastation that this storm has brought to our community, I will continue to work with federal, state, county and local officials to make sure that those who have suffered get the help they need and deserve,” said Congressman Rothman. “If I can be of assistance to anyone affected by the flooding, please feel free to contact my Hackensack office at (201) 646-0808.”

Congressman Steve Rothman (D-NJ) is at the microphone and the Boys & Girls Club Executive Director, Michael Nardino, is seated at the far right.
