Washington, DC – Congressman Steve Rothman (NJ-9) released the following statement:

This morning's attack outside the Ozar Hatorah, a Jewish school in Toulouse, France, was a horrific, murderous act. My thoughts and prayers are with the families and friends of the victims, which include three small children and a Rabbi who were murdered today. My constituents and our nation join France in mourning this great loss and ensuring that this murderer is brought to justice. Today's unprovoked attack is yet another reminder that true evil does still exist in this world and that it must be rooted out by good people wherever it exists.
