Washington, DC – Today, Congressman Steve Rothman (D-NJ), a member of the House Appropriations Committee, released the following statement:

I am proud to announce the Department of Homeland Security's Fire Prevention and Safety grant of $61,071 for the Town of Secaucus, New Jersey. This Fire Prevention grant will support projects that enhance the safety of the people of Secaucus and its firefighters from fire and other related hazards. Every federal dollar that is brought back for important local projects like this one is one less dollar that the already overburdened local taxpayers have to take out of their pockets.
