

Fair Lawn

The Borough of Fair Lawn, one of the 70 towns that comprise Bergen County, is home to approximately 32,000 residents and its history can be traced back to the Lenni-Lenapi tribes.

Within Fair Lawn's boundaries is a unique community called Radburn. One of the first modern planned communities in the United States, it was intended originally to be a self-sufficient entity known as "Town for the Motor Age." The planners, Clarence S. Stein and Henry Wright, enlisted the practical aid of financier Alexander Bing who had organized the City Housing Corporation in 1924. Bing's enthusiasm brought his corporation to New Jersey, and Radburn was born in 1928.

Fair Lawn boasts over a dozen recreational facilities and parks numerous houses of worship of many different faiths, a top-notch school system and a brand new state-of-the-art Community Center.

You can read more about this municipality, learn about its local government, and more at <http://www.fairlawn.org/>

.

How Can I Help?

If you are a resident of Fair Lawn and would like to request assistance with a federal agency, please fill out and submit this privacy form.

Congressman Rothman Working for District 9

{mos_ri:fair_lawn_town}

More Fair Lawn News

- Fair Lawn Community News (http://www.mycommunity.com/town/Fair_Lawn)
- Fair Lawn News (<http://www.fairlawnnews.com/>)
- The Record of Bergen County (<http://www.northjersey.com/towns/fairlawn.html>)

If you would like to see a media outlet added to this list, please contact us .